
CFP: RECASP SPECIAL ISSUE ON BROADENING THE VISTA
Deadline: December 31st, 2016

The framework of 'capital as power' offers a radical alternative to both liberal and Marxist political economies. In this framework, capital is viewed not as a productive economic entity, but as the central power institution of capitalist society at large, while capitalism as a whole is seen not as mode of production and consumption, but as a mode of power.

The purpose of this special issue is to critically theorize, historicize and empirically research capital as power and capitalism as a conflictual mode of power. The area of inquiry is wide open, and we welcome big-picture contributions as well more focused research.

Contributors who do not hold a PhD will be automatically considered for the 2016 RECASP Essay Prize (see below)
